CP SQL 8.4 New Features - Kits/Bills of Material Option.

CPSQL 8.4 has great new enhancements...

Prompting for grid cells in kits

CounterPoint can now prompt users to choose the cell (e.g., Red/XL) for each gridded kit component automatically at the time of the sale, which means that users no longer have to manually change the default cell for each gridded kit component. This feature streamlines the process of selling kits, saves time at the register, and requires fewer steps for the user to remember. more ...

The Value of Newsletters.

How do you make your store stand out from all of your competitors in today's overcrowded retail environment? One way is to create a periodic newsletter not only to alert customers about sales, events, and promotions, but also to educate them about your products. What makes up a good newsletter? Traditionally, lists of items on sale were primarily used to bring customers back. Today's newsletters need more content than that to differentiate your product from your competitor's and create more interest in your store or website. Consider including the following: more ...

SmartAlerts®

If you are running Counterpoint SQL, then you consider the Smart Alerts add-on. This add-on will alert you, via email, or a text message to your phone, when any of the conditions that you define have occurred.

Smart Alerts is very flexible in what can be configured. It is designed to quickly alert you to possible problems, including shrinkage or fraud. By being alerted to something such as a high number of voided tickets, for example, you are made aware of the possibility that someone is running tickets, voiding them, and pocketing the money, very quickly. You can also set alerts for a store having a slow sales day. more ...
